The combined project with homes, shops, restaurants and a green courtyard park is a new landmark for Vanløse city centre, and unique homes have been created that have a view of Copenhagen while also having their own garden or balcony. The landmark is named after the old margarine factory 'Kronen' on Jyllingevej.

The homes are built in up to 4 storeys in 18 blocks. There is a mix of youth and family housing and family homes of varying sizes, with youth homes averaging 40 m² and family homes averaging 95 m². average 95 m². 75% of the homes are private rental homes, 25% are social housing.
